News digest

Except for less export business, most find little to complain ...

Longtime Gonzales County rancher Jim Selman, who raises calves in the biggest cattle county in the nation s biggest cattle state, sees 2004 as a year to remember.

Med school move delayed to 2007

The MSU College of Human Medicine won t be relocated to Grand Rapids until at least 2007, and could cost only half as much as university officials originally estimated.

Dollar Steady Ahead of Jobs Report

LONDON (Reuters) - The dollar held firm above this week's record low against the euro on Friday, with dealers reluctant to take positions ahead of key U.S. jobs figures.

Yukos plans to fix itself before auction

The Russian oil giant Yukos said yesterday that management was putting together an emergency plan to continue running the company for a few months, even after the auction of its prize asset in December.

American Fare Cuts Presage Price War

American Airlines slashed its fares to Miami yesterday by as much as 85 percent from several cities including Washington's Reagan National Airport, possibly setting off a winter fare war on routes to Florida.

Gold Fields loses high court bid to halt Harmony takeover

South African mining giant Gold Fields lost a high court bid to halt a hostile takeover by rival Harmony Gold, which is seeking to create the world s biggest gold producer, a court official said.